Dreams Do Come True

Hilltopper

Here is a pictorial record of Howe's development from blueprint to present time. Our first yearbook covers the history of the three initial years of the city's newest high school.

Joe Watson and Robert Stitt, Hilltopper photographers, view the school through the eye of their camera.

Dreams Do Come True

THE STORY OF HOWE HIGH . .

We present to you Thomas Carr Howe High School, long merely a dream to many east-side parents and pupils but now a dream fulfilled.

During its three short years of existence the school has created for itself a background of records and achievements, representing many hours of careful planning, unselfish labor, and joyful service on the part of the faculty, principal, parents, pupils, and friends.

Leaf through these pages of historical significance and enter the make-believe portals of this book, to view the factors that have contributed to make Thomas Carr Howe High School our realized dream.

Our Beginning

For many years the residents of Irvington and other east-side districts persistently worked for a new high school. The purchase of the site known as Violet Hill was the first step toward the realization of their dream. Mrs. Louis W. Bruck, then president of the Irvington Union of Clubs, turned the first spadeful of earth from Violet Hill four years ago on May 28, 1937, at the ground breaking ceremonies.

On November 10, 1937, Mr. DeWitt S. Morgan, superintendent of schools, presided at the corner stone laying. Under the stone was placed the Bible, the United States flag, the Indianapolis Star, News, Times, Public School News, minutes of the board, history of the Irvington Union of Club's efforts to obtain the school for the community, biographies of Thomas Carr Howe, and William Forsythe, well-known Irvington artist. The trowel used by Allan W. Boyd, then president of the Board of School Commissioners, was presented to the school by Mr. A. B. Good, business director of the Board of School Commissioners.

The dedication ceremonies for Thomas Carr Howe High School took place on Thursday, September 29, 1938, presided over by Mr. DeWitt S. Morgan. The dedication speech was made by Carl Wilde, then president of the Board of School Commissioners, and was accepted by Mr. Hilton U. Brown, prominent citizen of Indianapolis. At a signal from Mr. Charles MacKay Sharp, principal, the clock in the tower was started, signifying the official beginning of Thomas Carr Howe High School.

Our First Year

Howe High School opened its doors for the first time in September, 1938, to four hundred and fifty students. There were approximately three hundred and forty-nine freshmen, and one hundred sophomores who came from the other high schools.

When the school opened, the library had few books to which the students could refer. To fill up these empty shelves, the Parent-Teacher Association, under the chairmanship of Mrs. T. M. Weesner, sponsored a book shower in March, 1939. Mrs. C. U. Watson and Joe Watson (pictured) were among those who gave their services in collecting the 3,000 books donated to the school by friends.

Near the beginning of the semester a demand came for a school publication. A staff was organized and a contest to name the school's newspaper was sponsored by this staff on March 29, 1939. Jean Huston and Ann Link (pictured) look at a contest poster.

The first Pageant of Achievement, celebrating the second birthday of the ground breaking of the school, was held on Friday, May 26, 1939, on the school campus. Margaret Gordon reigned as first Violet Queen attended by Eileen Edwards, Marilyn Behymer, Ella Nora Tomlinson, and Jo Ann Harmon. Robert Winter represented the Philosopher.

Our Second Year

Our second year's enrollment almost doubled that of the first year, mounting to approximately seven hundred and thirty-two students.

This growth of the school brought need for a full-sized gymnasium and lunchroom. The new gymnasium is shown as it looked last year when under construction. The first activity held in the wing was the First Nighter Dance, sponsored by the publication staffs.

The school celebrated the third anniversary of its ground breaking with the second annual Pageant of Achievement on May 29, 1940. Juanita Davis was chosen by the student body from a group of five candidates to reign as Violet Queen with Joan Campbell, Clyde Holder, Juanita Godfrey, and Patricia Swayne acting as attendants. Hal Silver impersonated the Spirit of the Tower.

The annual citizenship plaque award, given by the American Legion Post No. 38 of Irvington to the outstanding junior boy and girl, was presented to Marilyn Behymer and Tom Reese.

Our Third Year

The enrollment of the school passed the 1,000 mark during the fall semester of 1940. Lawrence Born was the one thousandth pupil to enter the school. The present enrollment is approximately 1,065.

The first activity of the term was the Gold and Brown Dance sponsored by the Hilltopper staff and seniors on October 18, 1940, in the school gymnasium. Ann Holloway and Richard Eichenauer were chosen the first Golden Girl and Brown Boy by the votes of pupils who subscribed to the Hilltopper yearbook.

The first home varsity basketball game was played with Broad Ripple on the night of the dedication of the gymnasium, Friday, November 29, 1940. Before the game started Mr. DeWitt S. Morgan, superintendent of schools, gave a short talk. Mr. Harvey B. Hartsock, then president of the Board of School Commissioners, gave the dedicatory address, which was accepted by Mr. Duke Hanna, representative of the Men's 400 Club.

Howe Upon the Hill

Our dream school, a stately building of collegiate, Tudor Gothic type architecture, faces Pleasant Run and Washington Street. It is constructed of reddish-brown brick and Indiana limestone. Its picturesque central tower, with leaded glass windows, has a great clock cut in stone.

The corridors are Gothic in style and contain large glass display cases. The arched ceilings are made of acoustic plaster. The floor coverings on the first and second floors are asphalt tile, while terrazzo covers the ground floor.

The walls are painted in green, buff, and horizon blue. The furniture is modern, with movable chairs, equipped with gliders, replacing the old-style stationary desks.

The new unit contains a gymnasium that can be divided into two sections by doors which open and close automatically. Bleachers are of the folding type.

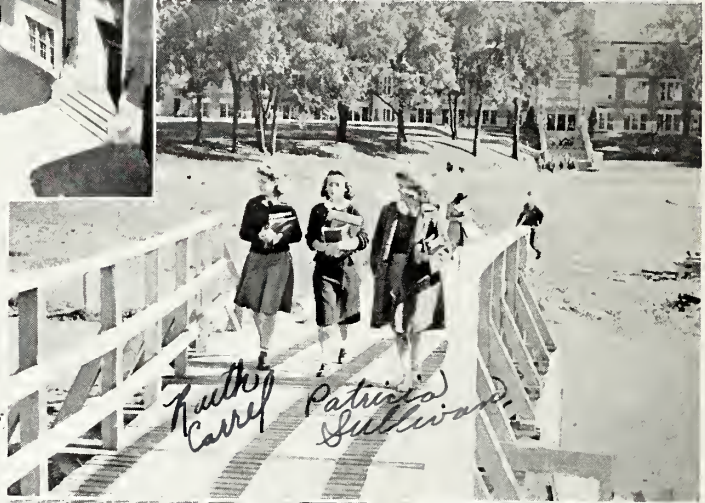

Our Dream School

The lower part of the gym wall is made of glazed brick; the upper part consists of painted cinder blocks. Non-breakable glass brick windows shed light for daytime sessions.

The new unit also includes a cafeteria providing for two lunch lines and a private dining room for teachers, a band room, cafeteria office, locker and shower rooms and offices for the athletic manager and girls' gym director.

Dr. Thomas Carr Howe, for whom Howe High School was named, was a prominent citizen of Indianapolis and president of Butler University when it was situated in Irvington.

Our Campus . . .

From the tower we view the front walk on a winter day.

The outstanding architectural feature of our school is our tower and clock.

As we look down from the new wing, we see the west walk.

Ice and snow on the creek add beauty to our campus.

The tower literally reaches for the clouds. In this tower are the offices of all Howe publications.

The school flag is raised each morning during a ceremony in which the pupils take part.

Footprints in the snow.

School's out! Pupils wander down the winding walk and over the bridge.

On this concrete "Y" students go to athletic field or to front walk.

Our new track house, in the southwest corner of the campus, shelters the track team's equipment.

Principal C. M. Sharp and Athletic Manager George P. Farkas inspect the entrance of our new gym.

The back entrance is used for bringing in supplies and is used by pupils in bad weather. Teachers, pupils, and visitors use the parking lot.

Many pupils ride bicycles to school and leave them in racks on the parking lots.

Let's Go In

We enter the foyer of Indianapolis' newest high school and mount the steps leading to the main office. During the course of the school day, these steps are traversed by more than one thousand students.

Business is carried on in this office from the time the doors are opened until long after the closing bell has rung. Students, teachers, and visitors seek the help of the friendly clerks in charge, Miss Jane Holl and Miss Virginia Childers. Here one may find all the important school records.

Virginia Childers

Our popular principal, Charles MacKay Sharp, graciously greets the newcomers as well as those already enrolled. He is well liked for his friendliness, fairness, sense of humor, clever speech, and tireless work for our school.

Our Classes

Nearing their goal of graduation, the members of our first senior class aspire to continue their records of activity and achievement, thus bringing honor to themselves and to Thomas Carr Howe High School.

Seniors of 1941

The busiest class of the school, the "41" seniors, have kept a steady pace in planning their many activities for the entire year. The class colors chosen were gold, maroon, and light blue. Winter and spring parties were given on February 27, and May 8. Gordon Jones, class president; Phyllis Dukes, vice-president; Betty Harvey, secretary; Robert Winter, treasurer; Robert Alexander and Margaret Clendening, student council representatives, under the supervision of Miss Florence Guild, senior sponsor, appointed numerous committees to plan and carry on the activities for the year.

Philip Lybrook and Mary LaShorne are shown debating the question, "Shall we wear caps and gowns for graduation?" After much discussion, the class chose caps and gowns.

Herbert James and Gordon Jones presented a humorous ballet dance at the Winter party on February 27.

Home Rooms

Home rooms, the center of Howe's guidance activities, assemble daily between the second and third periods. Here the teachers help the students plan their courses of study, and deal with matters relating to the welfare of the individual student. The thirty-one home rooms organize and present programs throughout the year.

Our Newest Howeites

Here are our new Howeites! These students entered Howe in January, 1941, and were welcomed to the school in an assembly the first day. Here they were acquainted with the rules and regulations of the school.

To stimulate interest in after-school activities, club representatives visited the freshman home rooms and gave talks explaining the various programs and business meetings of their clubs.

Our Activities

Extra-curricular activities play an important part in the life of the average student at Howe. In this section we give you a bird's eye view of our outstanding activities, including clubs, publication staffs, and musical organizations.

A new activity this year was the political convention which was held in the fall. Each social studies class was organized into a city, a part of the state of Howe. Robert Alexander, a Federalist, was elected Governor.

Here is a view of the Nationalist convention which was held in connection with the mock election.

Student Council

The STUDENT COUNCIL, which is composed of one representative from each home room, helps in forming the policies of the school.

William Gordon is president; Carolyn Miller, secretary, and Principal C. M. Sharp, sponsor.

Audio-Visual Club

Howe's motion picture machine, public address system, and stereopticon are operated by members of the AUDIO-VISUAL CLUB. During the past year they have shown about 130 classroom films, thus rendering a real service to the school.

William Dearmin is foreman; James Milligan, assistant, and Mr. Raphael Wolfe, sponsor.

Library Club

Members of the LIBRARY CLUB assist with the regular work of the library and Book Week plans. During the past year they presented a radio program over WIRE and celebrated their first birthday. Miss Florence Guild, chairman of the English department, gave a book review at an open meeting of the club.

Ellen Kroll is president; Norma Walker, vice-president; Carla Russell, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Martha Eckert, sponsor.

Science Club

The SCIENCE CLUB, which is sponsored by Mr. William Smith, has worked on a permanent insect collection for the department, planted flowers on the campus, and worked in the school greenhouse.

Officers for the fall semester were Bert Edwards, president; Juanita Russell, vice-president, and Juanita Davis, secretary.

Vihota Club

The VIHOTA CLUB, which is composed of Junior girls, renders service to the school by selling refreshments at all the home basketball games and making and selling brown and gold mops. The members also check home lunch passes.

Violet Queen candidates are selected from members of the Vihota Club. The entire student body selects the Queen, who reigns at the annual Pageant of Achievement.

The club gave a tea for the freshmen girls, and sponsored an all-girl Christmas party.

Melville Weesner is president of the organization; Jean Williams, vice-president; Betty Watson, secretary; Mary Ellen Magnuson, treasurer, and Mrs. Mildred Loew, sponsor.

Footlight Revelers

The FOOTLIGHT REVELERS endeavor to develop personality through play acting and to encourage students to become more interested in good theatrical productions.

Among the activities of the club were the presentations of a three-act play at one of the city churches and a one-act play for one of the P.-T. A. meetings.

The voice speaking choir, also a part of this organization, performed at one of the local churches.

Latin Club

Through the LATIN CLUB many students have found that the study of Latin can be correlated with recreation.

This was proved at the Roman dinner which was given before Christmas. Sixty-five costumed guests were served a Roman menu in true Roman fashion. Entertainment in the form of music and dancing was presented between courses. Before the last course a sacrifice was performed to the gods.

The club sponsored the annual Latin contests which are open to all Latin students and are modeled after the State contests. Sixty-seven students entered the contest this year. Two persons in each grade of Latin received awards, a medal for first place and a ribbon for second place.

The club corresponds with Latin clubs in three other schools in the state with whom they exchange ideas.

A two-act play, "Venus Drops a Bomb," which was written by Miss Pollitt, was presented at one of the meetings. Part of the script of this play was in Latin.

Melville Weesner and Marjorie Weber are consules; Ruthanne Gossom and Dorothy Ray, scriptores, and Miss Narcie Pollitt, sponsor.

Cornu Latinum Staff

CORNU LATINUM, the monthly publication of the Latin department, is edited by selected students of Miss Narcie Pollitt's advanced classes. It provides a common point of interest for all Latin classes. The paper contains graded material, suited to the reading ability of each class.

Ann Holloway is editor-in-chief; Melville Weesner, assistant editor; Ethelda Keiter, make-up editor, and Jean Huston, typist.

Spanish Club

Spanish students who wish to become better acquainted with the Spanish speaking countries, their language, their culture, and their customs are organized in the SPANISH CLUB.

The officers for the fall semester were Betty Ann Florack, president; Marjorie Craig, vice-president, and Alice Hackney, secretary. Spring semester officers are Ann Link, president; Grace Thomson, vice-president, and Ruth Kimberlin, secretary. Miss Mary Elizabeth Thumma is sponsor.

Publication Staffs

Here they are! The students who make possible the publication of our bi-weekly paper, the HOWE TOWER!

The JOURNALISM CLUB, which is composed of one member from each English class, cooperates with the HOWE TOWER staffs in the publication of the paper.

The members of the two HOWE TOWER staffs write and edit the school paper. Pupils are required to have a credit in Journalism before being eligible for a position on either of the two staffs. The TOWER has won several state and national awards.

Hilltopper Staff

Tom Reese is worrying over some business problems of the yearbook.

Lois Knapp, Betty Stonebraker, and Mary Alys Werkhoff mount pictures for the engraver. Layout work is done in the top room of the Tower.

Yes, dreams do come true! The members of the HILLTOPPER staff were told that the idea of publishing a yearbook this year was just a fantastic dream. We sincerely believed that we could finance a book and therefore set out to show the doubtful ones that it was possible.

Each member of the staff held a definite position, but each had to be a "Jack-of-all-trades" in order to get the book under way. Official positions of the staff members were Marilyn Behymer, editor-in-chief; Herbert James, copy editor; Peggy Gordon, picture editor; Phyllis Dukes, class editor; Miriam Jasper, activities editor; Bob McMullen, sports editor; Tom Reese, business manager; Betty Stonebraker, layout editor; Mary Alys Werkhoff and Lois Knapp, assistant layout editors, and Betty Jane Kyle, typist. Joe Watson and Robert Stitt, who are pictured in the front of the book, were staff photographers.

Mrs. Ruth Marie Griggs supervised the publication of the book. Miss Florence Guild had charge of the copy writing, and Mr. Henry A. Thomas, as financial director, held the purse strings to our limited budget. Thus, the cooperation of everyone has created another HOWE first.

Musical Organizations

The GIRLS' ENSEMBLE is composed of girls who have shown exceptional musical ability. The size of the group makes it possible for them to represent the school when they are called on for public appearances.

The CHOIR is composed of boys and girls who have been outstanding in the music department. The members learn to perform and appreciate good music.

They shared in the presentation of the Annual Spring Music Festival and the Christmas program.

Joan Campbell is president of the organization; Jo Ellen Burroughs, vice-president; Robert Gwynn, secretary, and Mr. Frank S. Watkins, sponsor.

Our Track and Cross Country . .

The cross country run was the first sport engaged in by Howe's athletes, and our runners accomplished great things for so young a squad. Track and field followed soon, and the two squads proceeded to show the other schools that Howe's Harriers were to be reckoned with. Today, both teams are going strong, and we are casting very hopeful eyes toward the future.

In the first cross country varsity season, 1939, our Hornets distinguished themselves by winning four runs, losing two, and taking second in a trio meet. Their conquests included Warren Central and the Indiana Boys School.

The 1940 schedule included four won and six lost. Our first win last season was over Southport, when Art Alexander, Bob Winter, Jack Whited, Bob Mannfeld, and Floyd Bicknell took all the places from third to seventh to win, 25 to 30.

Broad Ripple was next to fall when Howe placed their first five in the first six places to win, 20 to 35.

Howe's Harriers won a close one from Washington, 26 to 29, when Jack Whited took second; Bob Winter, fourth; Bob Mannfeld, fifth; Phil Lasley, sixth; and Art Alexander, ninth.

The last run of the season was against Tech. Our Harriers barely edged out the other eastside thinlies, 27 to 28. Bob Winter placed second; Phil Lasley, fourth; Art Alexander, sixth; Jack Whited, seventh; and Bob Mannfeld, eighth.

(Low score wins)

Howe's first varsity track squad finished their season with three wins, one tie, and five losses. Those defeated were Beech Grove, Noblesville, and the Indiana Deaf School.

The most impressive victory was over Beech Grove, when our thinlies won, 101 to 11. Howe took all thirteen firsts, eleven seconds, and four thirds.

Those boys who took first in their events were: Ralph Toney, 100-yard dash; Jack Whited, mile run; Bob Alexander, 440-yard run; Arthur Graham, 120-yard high and low hurdles; Bob Schneider, 880-yard run; Don Durbin, 220-yard dash; Dick Dobbs, high jump; Jack Jones, tie in pole vault; Dick Eichenauer, shot put; James Wade, broad jump; and both the mile and half-mile relays.

Other outstanding athletes were Alan Crapo, John Risch, Ed Andrews, Art Alexander, and James Iverson.

Our meet with Shelbyville was outstanding, in that the meet was a tie, 58-up.

The Freshman track record for 1940 was one victory out of four contests.

Top row: Bob Mulhall, Bob Young, Leroy Bartlett, Sterling Raymond, Francis Mulhall, and Bob Collins.

GOLF

Bob Bowsher, Don Pfeiffer, Mr. Fred C. Lemley, Howard Kirk, and Bill Hanafee.

Our Golf

Golf is one sport that got a late start in our school's athletic program. However, our squad of student linksmen made up for lost time by defeating every team on their schedule.

Among those defeated were Manual, Speedway, and Edinburg.

Our only defeat was suffered at the State Meet.

Mr. Fred C. Lemley deserves much credit for his excellent management of the team.

Our Softball

Although softball was primarily an activity of the gym classes, the boys' desire for competitive activity led to the formation of an intramural softball league. Mr. George P. Farkas and Mr. Lewis W. Gilfoy donated their time to provide excellent umpiring.

Joe Bruno, and his hard-hitting batters from Home Room 27 won the tourney last fall. Most of these fellows also participated in a touch football league later in the year.

Our Girl Athletes

SOFTBALL

Softball is a sport in which Howe's girls excel. Last September, four teams were organized and a tournament ensued. The four team captains were: Martha Lee Spratt, Bonnie Van Treese, Betty Rohrman, and Mildred Faubion. Anna Wessel officiated throughout the season.

Mildred Faubion umpires, while Bonnie Van Treese catches for batter, Anna Wessel.

ARCHERY

Last year, archery became a favorite sport with girl athletes at Howe. Archery has become so popular that two groups have been organized. Individual competition will begin this spring.

Mary Kathryn Huber, Lois Knapp, and Ruth Davis examine the target.

BASKETBALL

Girls basketball is a sport which was started this spring. Captains of the six teams are: Betty Rohrman, Nancy Ostrander, Mary Schafer, Marion Mutz, Juanita Davis, and Catherine Power.

Betty Myers is on the alert as Mary Schafer guards Juanita Davis.

For participating in these various activities under the direction of Miss Ruby Lou Lillard, girls' sports director, all girls are eligible for awards from the Girls' Athletic Association. These awards are based on points which are obtained through organized school activities such as table tennis, volley ball, and those pictured above. Points may also be obtained through various physical tests and outside sporting activities.

Howe Time Flies

1. Five of our Fairest flowers—Pat Swayne, Joan Campbell, Juanita Godfrey, Juanita Davis, and Clyde Holder—1940 Violet Queen candidates.
2. Little Boy Blue and two assistants, or better known as Kenneth Smith, Mary Elizabeth Donnell and David Phelps.
3. Hal Silver, the first student council president, gazes thoughtfully into the distance.
4. Bob Winter and Bob Schneider "track" on down.
5. Blanche Welch, Evelyn Courtney, Ethelda Keiter, and Patty Carnahan are all dressed up and have some place to go.
6. What coach could ask for a better lineup than Marilyn Behymer, Dorothy Jasper, Miriam Jasper, Betty Stonebraker, and Mary Donnell?
7. Lois (Gracie Allen) Rawlings gives us a big smile.
8. Remember Johnny Thomas, Alan Crapo, Bob Prater, and Ralph Rosico's swell interpretation of "Dinah," "When I Wore a Tulip," and many other songs at the school dances?
9. Mr. Noffke's pupils once sang "An Apple for the Teacher," but since he was drafted it's "There's Something About a Soldier."
10. Star Miler Floyd Bicknell circles the track.
11. Shirley Lowe and Martha Harris forget report card blues and smile happily as they hold a poster for the Dooms Day Dance.
12. Mary Lois Stitt, Barbara Montgomery, and Helen Thompson are caught in the midst of a "gab" session.
13. Four gals: Martha Harris, Betty Hallberg, Laura Ash, Gloria Virt and eight dawgs.
14. "The Pause That Refreshes" at a school dance.
15. All we said was, "Look natural," and this is what happened to Betty Bourne, Miriam Jasper, Ralph Anderson, Eileen Edwards, and Cort Shea. We'll know better next time.
16. This fugitive from a Laurel and Hardy comedy is none other than our own Bob Shaffer.
17. Bill Gordon devises his own system of making Eva Ruth Ham and Nancy Ostrander stand still.
18. We think Cort Shea's been looking for Santa Claus.
19. Peggy Gordon, Ella Nora Tomlinson, Eileen Edwards, Jo Ann Harmon, and Marilyn Behymer lead the parade in the first May Pageant.
20. B. M. O. C.'s (Big Men on the Campus) took a back seat when Roland Crim, Don Clapp, Joe Watson, Kenneth Smith and Joe Cottom were at Franklin College during the press convention.
21. Harold Albertson, Jack Whited, Phil Lasley, and Bob Winter believe that "Practice Makes Perfect."
22. Who says "Three's a Crowd"? Mary Ellen Magnuson, Gordon Jones and Phyllis Dukes don't seem to think so.
23. Elmer Summit and Arthur "Shorty" Page prepare to make a "clean sweep" of things.
24. This is an unusual pose for Mrs. Cora Daniels, who is most often hurrying about her various duties.
25. This foursome composed of Wayne Austin, Everett Harpold, Charles Ingels, and Roy Horton keep things running smoothly around school.
26. Mrs. Rilda Murphy mixes up our favorite food—hamburgers—while Lucille Mallory makes coffee for the teachers.
27. "Heavy, heavy hangs over thy head"—Hester Colburn, Thelma Stephenson, Lelia Harlan, and Unus Wharton perform their duties under a heavy artillery of kitchen utensils.

Indianapolis Star

Our mascot cheerleader, Tommy Mueller, leads a yell for our school. Tommy and Principal C. M. Sharp are pictured at the Indianapolis sectional tournament.

And so we give a cheer for HOWE—
our dream come true. Proudly we sing:

Thomas Carr Howe, we're loyal to you;
We will fight for you and we'll e'er be true
To the school of our dreams; with loyal support
We will lead you on to honor, glory, and fame.*

May the future bring greater attainment and refreshed inspiration as new and talented students enter their "dream come true" school,
Thomas Carr Howe High School.
